

坡地防災及土石流監測

Large sediment disasters have been frequently occurred every year by heavy torrential rainfall and cause enormous damages. To protect the human life and property, monitoring the sediment movement is fundamentally important countermeasure. TAKUWA CORPORATION is a manufacturer of sensors for warning and evacuation system. Our sensors are suitable for the characteristic of sediment movement and site conditions, and their effectiveness are verified by applying to many sediment disasters. Also we provide installation works to the disaster site, their experiences are fed back to the improvement and development.
